Position Description:

The Department of Transportation, Bureau of Highway Operations, Office of Maintenance, anticipates one (1) Transportation Engineer 3 (Engineering) position for promotional / internal reassignment opportunities. This position is located in the District 1 Office, Rocky Hill, Special Services Section, Drainage Unit.

Preferred Knowledge, Skills and Abilities: A thorough knowledge of department policies, design and construction standards, good engineering practices, ability to prepare correspondence and reports and be conversant with the legal aspects of drainage. The candidate's duties will require to act as an expert witness to claims and litigation; have the ability to design new proposals to meet field conditions; the ability to review surveys and plans for shoulder, pavement, and other improvements to be made by district forces; instruct new members of drainage unit, maintenance crews, construction inspectors and district design personnel as to highway policies and procedure; design standards, legal aspects and construction methods relative to drainage upon request; must be capable to perform various field activities.

Eligibility Requirement:

Candidates must have applied for and passed the Transportation Engineer 3 (Engineering) exam and be on the current certification list promulgated by the Department of Administrative Services for this classification. State employees currently holding the above title or those who have previously attained permanent status may apply for lateral transfer. Interviews may be limited to candidates whose experience and training most closely meet the preferred knowledge, skills and abilities noted above.

General Duties: This position serves as the Trans. District Drainage Engineer involved in complex drainage engineering and related tasks with the drainage maintenance of roadways, easements, encroachment permit reviews, conducts field and office investigations of drainage engineering, technical or other problems, prepares reports, analyses problems and recommends effective solutions; acts as the liaison with Hydraulics & Drainage Unit and the Office of State Traffic Administration personnel. Provides training to new district personnel as well as maintenance drainage crew inspectors responsible for performing drainage installations. Serves as a technical advisor for Maintenance and Construction projects; prepares comprehensive reports; all of which require field investigations. The Trans. Engineer 3 (E) for drainage operations is the immediate and appropriate contact available to the public, town officials, legislative officials, federal officials, Maintenance personnel and Construction personnel, Environmental Protection and Planning Sections, the Department's Survey and Rights-of-Way Sections, the Attorney General's Office Legislative inquires as well as private engineering firms that represent developers in the Encroachment Permit and State Traffic Administration review processes, implement general permit activity program, to include but not limited to various related duties.

Working Conditions: Incumbents in this class may be exposed to some danger of injury or physical harm from highway or construction environments and a moderate degree of discomfort from exposure to year round weather conditions.

Note: The filling of this position will be in accordance with reemployment, SEBAC, transfer, promotion and merit employment rules, if applicable.

Application Instructions: Interested and eligible candidates who meet the above requirements must submit a resume describing detailed experience as listed in the above "General Duties" and "Preferred knowledge, skills and abilities." and CT-HR-12 Application for Employment.
